

Alpaca Poncho, Hooded

This luxurious woven hooded poncho has been knitted in Peru of the finest Fair Trade certified alpaca yarn. The exclusive handmade design incorporates gorgeous shades of blue, making this poncho a truly unique item. The delicate knitting is truly outstanding.

This poncho is extremely soft and silky, due to the high quality alpaca yarn used when knitted.

Right on style, this is the perfect garment to wear with jeans or a pair of slacks.

It measures: 45" L x 36" W.

Alpaca is considered a specialty fiber because less alpaca fiber is produced each year than cashmere, angora rabbit or mohair. However, alpaca is considered a luxury fiber because of its unique properties, softness, luster, lightness, durability and warmth. No other animal has fiber that can combine all these properties.

This versatile and useful garment is perfect for moonlit walks on those chilly nights.
